QUINNIPIAC STORYLINES

• Quinnipiac comes into the weekend with its first three-game winning streak of the season after defeating Fairfield 75-70 on Saturday in Uniondale, N.Y. as part of a MAAC tripleheader. The Bobcats begin a difficult stretch now, though, as their next four games are against the top four teams in the MAAC, with three on the road (Iona, Niagara, Canisius).

• Quinnipiac is now alone in fifth place in the MAAC standings at 6-4, marking the latest that it has been two games over .500 since 2013-14, its first season in the league.

• Nine of Quinnipiac's games this year have been decided by two points or less, with the Bobcats compiling a 6-3 record (winning those six games by a combined total of nine points). The Bobcats' three wins during their current streak have been by seven, eight, and five points, increasing their averaging margin of victory for the season to 3.2 points.

• Senior guard Cameron Young has had a breakout season for the Bobcats. After playing only eight minutes all of last season and not scoring a single point, Young ranks fifth in the MAAC in scoring at 17.5 ppg (as well as third in conference games at 19.3 ppg), and has scored in double figures in each of the last 16 games.

• Senior forward Chaise Daniels is closing in on becoming the 39th player in Quinnipiac history (and 13th at the Division I level) to score 1,000 points. He enters the Iona game with 949 career points, 51 shy of the milestone.

• Freshman guard Rich Kelly has been named the Rookie of the Week by the MAAC twice this season (most recently on Dec. 26). The first of his honors came after tallying 22 points and 10 assists in a road win over Columbia, the first 20-point, 10-assist game for a Bobcat since 2004-05. Kelly is third in the MAAC in assists per game (5.3 apg).

• Freshman forward Jacob Rigoni is Quinnipiac's second-leading scorer in MAAC games at 11.9 ppg. Rigoni has been deadly from beyond the arc, leading the MAAC in three-point percentage at 50.6 percent (43-85), ranking him 13th nationally among players with at least two attempts per game.

• Two Bobcat players are currently pursuing their masters of business administration degrees at Quinnipiac - Isaiah Washington, who graduated from Penn State in only three years, and Alain Chigha, who is in his fifth year with the Bobcats after graduating in the spring with a degree in sociology.

• Senior walk-on Greg Tarca was surprised with a full scholarship at the Quinnipiac men's basketball team's Secret Santa party on Dec. 16.

• Quinnipiac is 4-0 in New York State this season, with wins at Columbia, Siena, Marist and Nassau Coliseum (over Fairfield) to its credit.

LAST GAME (QUINNIPIAC 75, FAIRFIELD 70)

Cameron Young had 15 points, eight rebounds and a career-high eight assists to lead Quinnipiac to a 75-70 win over Fairfield at NYCB Live, Home of Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum on Saturday. The Bobcats used a 19-2 run in the first half to take a 10-point lead at 29-19, and led the rest of the way, but had to hold off a late Fairfield run, as the Stags closed to within 72-70 in the final minute and missed a tying three-point. Junior forward Abdulai Bundu had his first double-double of the season with 12 points and 10 rebounds, while Andrew Robinson chipped in with 14 points off the bench.

NEW YORK STATE OF MIND

The win over Fairfield at Nassau Coliseum on Saturday improved Quinnipiac's record to 4-0 in games played in New York this season. The Bobcats have road wins over Columbia, Siena and Marist to their credit as well.

TOUGH STRETCH AHEAD

The Bobcats are alone in fifth place in the MAAC at 6-4, but have a tough stretch looming. Starting with this weekend's game at Iona, Quinnipiac plays the top four teams in the MAAC over the next eight days (at Iona, vs. Rider, at Niagara, at Canisius).

RUNNING OUT OF FINGERNAILS

Quinnipiac has been in nine games decided by two points or less this year (going 6-3). The team's first six wins this season, including an 80-79 overtime win over Marist, were by a combined nine points (three by one point, three by two points). The Bobcats have finally changed things up lately, winning three straight games by a combined 20 points, increasing their average margin of victory to 3.2 points.

KELLY TWO-TIME MAAC ROOKIE OF WEEK

Freshman guard Rich Kelly was named the MAAC Rookie of the Week twice this year. He earned his first MAAC Rookie of the Week Award after a 22-point, 10-assist effort in a win at Columbia, marking the first 20-point, 10-assist game for a Bobcat in 13 years (see below). Kelly currently ranks third in the MAAC in assists (5.3 apg).

QU Points-Assists Double-Doubles Since 2004-05

Rich Kelly vs. Columbia (12/4/17)	22 pts 10 ast
Dave Johnson vs. Niagara (12/22/11)	13 pts 10 ast
Deontay Twyman vs. Buffalo (3/14/11)	14 pts 10 ast
James Feldeine vs. Monmouth (2/25/10)	19 pts 11 ast

Rob Monroe vs. UConn (12/30/04)	16 pts 10 ast
Rob Monroe vs. Longwood (11/27/04)	15 pts 14 ast

TRIGONI-METRICS

Freshman Jacob Rigoni has provided a big lift to the Bobcats offensively this year, particularly from beyond the arc. Rigoni has been particularly efficient from the three-point line all year, where he leads the MAAC, shooting 50.6 percent from beyond the arc (43-85), a figure which ranks him 13th nationally among players with at least two attempts per game. Rigoni is also second on the Bobcats in scoring in conference games at 11.9 ppg.

TWIN KILLING

Juniors Aaron Robinson and Andrew Robinson are the first twins in Quinnipiac men's basketball history. Andrew (11) and Aaron (8) combined for 19 points in a Nov. 29 win over UMass, two behind their combined best of 21 in a loss to Maine, when Andrew tied his career-high with 17 and Aaron had 4. Aaron redshirted last season after limited action as a freshman, while Andrew scored 164 points over his first two seasons.

YOUNG NO LONGER RESTLESS

Senior guard Cameron Young, a traditional three-man at 6-6, 205, was the odd man out in the Quinnipiac rotation last year when the Bobcats used a three-guard lineup, playing only eight minutes all season and not scoring a point. With a new roster and a new coaching staff this season, Young has seized his new chance, and currently is third in the MAAC in scoring in conference games at 19.3 ppg (overall he is fifth at 17.5 ppg). He is the only player on the Bobcats to reach 25 points in a game this season, which he had done five times (see below) and he has scored in double figures in each of his last 16 games.

MILESTONE WATCH

Senior forward Chaise Daniels is closing in on becoming the first Bobcat in three years to reach the 1,000-point plateau. He enters the Iona game with 949 career points, 51 away from becoming the 39th player in Quinnipiac history with 1,000 points and the 13th at the Division I level (since 1998-99). He also has 497 career rebounds, three shy of 500, and already ranks third all-time at Quinnipiac in all divisions in blocked shots with 143, three shy of second place.

A LONG ROAD TO HAMDEN

Few athletes have overcome such significant odds to reach the college level as junior forward Abdulai Bundu. Bundu was born in 1996 in Sierra Leone in the middle of a civil war, just before his parents won an immigration lottery to come to the United States. However, they could not secure visas for Abdulai and his brother and had to make the agonizing decision to leave them behind with family and try to bring them over later. Abdulai survived four refugee camps, before he was finally reunited with his parents in Maryland in 2003 at age 7. Bundu's hustle plays at both ends helped Quinnipiac to a win over Siena on Jan. 1, leaping out of bounds to save an offensive rebound that led to the winning points with 1:37 left and then coming from a weak side help position for the clinching block at the buzzer. He is coming off his first double-double of the year (and sixth of his career) vs. Fairfield (12 pts, 10 rebs).

A GRADUATE JUNIOR?

Isaiah Washington (9.2 ppg) has started every game in the backcourt this season as a rare graduate transfer with junior eligibility. Washington graduated in three years from Penn State, including one redshirt season, and is pursuing his MBA while playing his final two years with the Bobcats. He made his Quinnipiac debut a special one, scoring 18 points in a 78-77 win over Dartmouth, doubling his previous career high of nine set during his Penn State days.

THE ELDER STATESMAN

Fifth-year senior Alain Chigha graduated in May with a degree in sociology and is currently in grad school at Quinnipiac, joining graduate transfer Isaiah Washington (see above) in the MBA program. Chigha is a native of Cameroon, and came over to the United States to attend prep school in Florida at age 15 knowing only two words in English ("yes" and "no"), but eventually earned a college scholarship and completed his degree in four years.

TARCA EARNS SCHOLARSHIP

Fourth-year walk-on senior Greg Tarca was named a team co-captain earlier this season, along with fifth-year senior Alain Chigha (see above). Tarca was able to drop the "walk-on" from his title on Saturday, Dec. 16, though, when the program surprised him with a full scholarship at the team's Secret Santa party.

2017-18 Quinnipiac University Men's Basketball

Game #23 • at Iona • Hynes Athletic Center (New Rochelle, N.Y.)

Baker Dunleavy

Head Coach
First Season
Villanova '06

Baker Dunleavy was named head coach for Quinnipiac University's men's basketball on Tuesday, March 28, 2017. Dunleavy is the seventh head coach in Quinnipiac's 67-year basketball history, and the third in its 19 years at the Division I level. He earned a win in his first game as head coach, defeating Dartmouth 78-77 on Nov. 11 at the TD Bank Sports Center.

"After a thorough search for our new men's basketball coach, I'm thrilled to welcome Baker Dunleavy to the Quinnipiac family," Director of Athletics Greg Amodio said. "Baker has an outstanding reputation in the college basketball world. We knew the type of candidate that we were looking for and he fit all the criteria. There is no doubt that in hiring one of the top up-and-coming coaches in college basketball that we are taking a step closer to advancing our men's basketball program."

Dunleavy, 34, joins the Bobcats after spending seven years on the men's basketball staff at Villanova University where under Jay Wright, he helped the Wildcats capture the 2016 national championship with a 77-74 win over North Carolina. He began at Villanova as the director of basketball operations in 2010, before being elevated to assistant coach in 2012 and to the associate head coach position in 2013.

"My family and I could not be more excited to join the Quinnipiac community," Dunleavy said. "Quinnipiac is a university that combines a first class academic environment and a highly motivated athletic program. Our staff will work to develop complete student athletes and young men who are willing to work for success on and off the court. I am eager to get started building the foundation of a program that students, fans, and alumni can be proud of."

Dunleavy assisted Wright in all facets of the program as the associate head coach, including on-court teaching, player development and recruiting. In his four seasons as associate head coach, the Wildcats posted an impressive 129-17 record, including 63-9 in the BIG EAST Conference, while winning four straight regular season league titles and two postseason titles. Villanova earned No. 1 seeds in the NCAA Tournament in 2015 and 2017 (including the No. 1 seed in the entire tournament in 2017), as well as No. 2 seeds in 2014 and 2016, placing the Wildcats in the top eight in the country in all four years.

While serving as an associate head coach, Dunleavy had a key role in Wright winning three straight BIG EAST Coach of the Year honors from 2014-16, as well as the 2016 Naismith Men's College National Coach of the Year award. Dunleavy helped coach the last three BIG EAST Players of the Year, Ryan Arcidiacono (2015) and Josh Hart (2016 and 2017), while Hart was also named a first-team All-

American by the National Association of Basketball Coaches this winter.

A 2006 Villanova graduate, Dunleavy appeared in 28 games over his four seasons for the Wildcats. As a senior, he was part of the first Villanova team to earn a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament in 2006, a feat that he also accomplished twice as the program's associate head coach in the last three years.

After earning his degree from Villanova, Dunleavy entered the corporate world and worked for Merrill Lynch in New York City for four years. He decided to return to college basketball in 2010 and was hired by Wright as Villanova's director of operations before quickly ascending the coaching ladder.

A member of a well-known basketball family, Dunleavy's older brother, Mike Dunleavy Jr., won a national championship as a player at Duke and recently completed his 15th NBA season with the Atlanta Hawks. Their father, Mike Dunleavy Sr., also played 10 years in the NBA and served as head coach for four NBA franchises (Milwaukee Bucks, Los Angeles Lakers, Portland Trail Blazers and Los Angeles Clippers). Dunleavy Sr. is currently the head coach at Tulane University in New Orleans, giving the family two NCAA Division I head coaches heading into the 2017-18 season. Dunleavy married the former Chrissi Ingelsby in 2012. The couple has two daughters, Rosie, 3, and Caroline Claire (Cece), who was born earlier this month.

What They're Saying About Baker Dunleavy

Jay Wright, Head Coach, Villanova University

"We have had many great assistants - Baker is one of the best ever. Being a former player he knew our system better than anyone. He has been ready to lead a program for years and wanted the perfect fit. He found it at Quinnipiac. Baker and Chrissi will be missed dearly at Villanova and we all wish them the best!"

Jay Bilas, College Basketball Analyst, ESPN

"I am a big believer in Baker Dunleavy. He does not just have star potential; he is a future superstar in the coaching business, on and off the floor. First and foremost, Baker is just good people, plain and simple. He has great character, grounded values, and high standards for how things should be done. He is a patient teacher who sees the big picture while also being a demanding leader in the present, which can be a difficult balance to strike. Baker has a very calm demeanor, but he is an intense competitor who understands competition and winning. He is the kind of coach I want my son to be around and learn from every day. Quinnipiac just hired one terrific basketball coach and leader in Baker Dunleavy."

Mike D'Antoni, Head Coach, Houston Rockets

"Quinnipiac will be in great hands with Baker Dunleavy. I have known him since he was a young player and have watched him grow into a passionate and dedicated young coach. I'm excited to watch the progress of the program under his leadership."

Bill Raftery, College Basketball Analyst, Fox Sports

"Quinnipiac has chosen a young coach that will have a profound effect on the young players at the university. I have watched Baker Dunleavy impart his knowledge in a strong instructional fashion yet with a deep respect for the young men under his charge. Baker's people skills as well as his coaching ability will assure the university of long term success the students will be proud of during the winter months."
