QUICK HITS

- Quinnipiac continues MAAC play after defeating Fairfield to remain undefeated in conference play at 12-0. The Bobcats have won 13-consecutive contests, with their last loss coming on the road against Michigan State.

- The Bobcats were last in action Friday, when they came away with a 58-39 road win over Fairfield to remain unbeaten in MAAC play at 12-0. Carly Fabbri led the way with a game-high 17 points, 10 of which came in the third quarter. Taylor Herd added 15 points and grabbed a career-high six rebounds in the win.

- Quinnipiac currently owns a 18-5 record, making them two wins away from another 20-win season. Coming into the season, the Bobcats were one of 26 teams in the nation to win 20 games in a season from 2011-2017. During that span, Quinnipiac held a 158-46 record (.775), which was 13th best among the 26 teams during those six seasons.

- The TD Bank Sports Center, home of the Quinnipiac Bobcats, has long been one of the most difficult arenas to play at in the country. Since the 2012-13 season, Quinnipiac owns a record of 73-8 (.901) in games played at home. In just the last three-plus seasons (since 2014-15), the Bobcats own a mark of 48-4 (.923), the 11th-best home win percentage in the nation over that span.

- Due to its difficult non-conference schedule, Quinnipiac was ranked No. 20 in the nation in the NCAA RPI after its final non-conference game in the released standings on Dec. 23. All five of the Bobcat losses have come to teams ranked in the top 40 in the RPI (Iowa, Missouri, Ohio State, Princeton and Michigan State), with four of them away from home.

- Quinnipiac is following what was unquestionably the best single season in program history. The Bobcats finished the season with a mark of 29-7 overall, won the MAAC Regular Season for the third straight season, won a second straight MAAC Championship and capped 2016-17 with a historical NCAA Tournament run into the Sweet 16 with wins over nationally ranked Marquette and Miami.

- Prior to the season, both Aryn McClure and Jen Fay were voted to the 2017-18 Preseason All-MAAC Team. McClure and Fay have lived up to the hype as McClure is averaging 11.0 points, 5.7 rebounds, 3.1 assists and 1.2 blocks a game. While Fay is averaging 12.2 points, 6.9 rebounds and 2.2 assists per game. Fay also ranks in the top five in the conference in three-point shooting percentage and in made three-pointers per game.

In the second quarter, Fairfield went on a quick 6-0 run to tie the contest at 21-21 with 3:57 remaining in the first half. The Bobcats responded by closing the half with a 10-0 run to take a 31-21 lead into halftime. Herd started the run with a three-pointer, followed by a Fabbri three the very next possession. Herd scored five points during the run and went into the half with a game-high 13 points.

The Bobcats kept their foot on the gas in the third quarter with Fabbri leading the way. After Fairfield opened the quarter with a bucket, Fabbri scored five quick points after drilling a three-pointer then scoring on a fastbreak layup on the very next possession. Fabbri scored 10 of Quinnipiac's 14 third-quarter points. Quinnipiac's suffocating defense in the fourth secured the win for the Bobcats, as they allowed only five points in the quarter while forcing the Stags to shoot 2-16 (12.5%) from the field. The Bobcats put the game out of reach after going on a 9-0 run late in the fourth to push its lead to 22 (58-36) with 52 seconds remaining in the game.

SCOUTING IONA

The Gaels own a 1-21 record and are currently 10th in the MAAC with a 1-10 conference record. Iona is led by Preseason All-MAAC Team selection Alexis Lewis who averages 13.7 points per game, which is 10th most in the league. Freshman guard Toyosi Abiola averages 12.5 points per game, which is 11th most in the conference.

THE SERIES

Quinnipiac owns an 8-5 record against Iona, with the latest victory coming in a 74-38 road win earlier this season. The Bobcats had four players in double-figures with Taylor Herd leading the way with 16 points. Ediel Thronton and Jen Fay had 11 points apiece and Carly Fabbri added 10 points in the win.

DYNAMIC DUO

Carly Fabbri and Aryn McClure combined for 50 points in Quinnipiac's 73-66 win over Rider. Fabbri scored a career-high 28 points, while McClure scored a season-high 22 points. Fabbri's previous career-high was 20 points, which she scored in Quinnipiac's 84-70 win over Central Michigan on 12/21/17. Coincidentally, McClure scored her previous season-high of 18 points in the same game.

Fabbri and McClure were the first duo in program-history to score 20-plus points each in the same contest since Jasmine Martin (23) and Sam Guastella (20) did it in the Bobcats' 2015 MAAC

FLOOR GENERAL

EVERYBODY EATS

The Bobcats play a very unselfish brand of basketball, as Quinnipiac leads the MAAC with 16.7 assists per game as a team. The Bobcats spread the ball around evenly as four different players have lead the team in scoring at least three times and four different players rank in the top-20 in the MAAC in points per game.

RECORDS WERE MADE TO BE BROKEN

Quinnipiac set a few new program-records in its 86-39 win over Saint Peter's. Quinnipiac's 47-point win is its largest margin of victory since becoming a Division I program. Its previous largest margin of victory was a 46-point win over Maine on 3/18/16. The Bobcats allowed just 12 points in the first half, the least amount of points its allowed in the first half since becoming a Division I program in 1998-1999.

ACTIVE HANDS

The Bobcats are one of the top defensive units in the league as they rank first in the league in blocks per game (4.3) and first in steals per game (10.7).

CLIMBING THE NATIONAL RANKS

The Bobcats average only 12.5 turnovers per game, which ranks 21st in the nation. Quinnipiac's 1.33 assist-to-turnover ratio is 19th best in the nation, while its 6.13 turnover margin ranks 15th in the nation. Quinnipiac's 201 three-point field goals made ranks 14th in the nation, while its 594 three-point attempts ranks 10th in the country and it's 247 steals are the 16th most in the nation.

BIG MOVERS IN THE MAAC

Since joining the MAAC in 2013-14, Quinnipiac has reeled off a record of 90-14 (.865) in all games against MAAC opponents and 80-12 (.869) in regular season MAAC games, both records that currently lead all teams in the conference.

LEADING THE HERD

After spending much of her rookie season on the bench, sophomore Taylor Herd has seen her role increase substantially this season, first breaking through with a career high 10 points (3-7 FG, 2-4 3FG) in 13 minutes at nationally-ranked Ohio State (11/17). After scoring nine points in 13 games last season, Herd eclipsed her entire career scoring output in one game as she went for 10 points, including eight in the first half. She made her first career start on Dec. 3 at Hampton, filling in for injured Vanessa Udoji, and has remained in the starting lineup ever since. She matched her career high with 10 points in her second career start in a Dec. 6 win over Providence. Herd set a new career-high in points after she dropped 16 points (4-9 3FG) in a win over Niagara (1/4). Herd tied her career-high with 16 points (4-9 3FG) in a win over Iona (1/6). Herd scored 15 points and grabbed a career-high six rebounds in a win over Fairfield (2/02).

HOME LOVIN

The TD Bank Sports Center, home of the Quinnipiac Bobcats, has long been one of the most difficult arenas to play at in the country. Since the 2012-13 season, Quinnipiac owns a record of 72-8 (.900) in games played at home. In just the last three-plus seasons (since 2014-15), Quinnipiac owns a mark of 48-4 (.923). That mark ranks as the 12th-best home win percentage in the nation over that span. Quinnipiac currently has a 24-game home conference winning streak, dating back to a loss to Manhattan in its home MAAC opener in 2015-16.

DOUBLE-DOUBLE GALORE

Aryn McClure recorded her second double-double of the season after she put up 10 points and 10 rebounds in the win over Marist. In Quinnipiac's 77-61 win over Niagara, Jen Fay and McClure both finished with a double-double each. McClure finished with 16 points and 12 rebounds, while Fay finished with 13 points, 10 rebounds, six assists and a career-high five steals. This was the first time Quinnipiac has had two players finish with a double-double since Sarah Shewan and Fay each recorded one against Marist on Feb. 23, 2017. Fay has recorded three double-doubles this season.

LETTING IT FLY

In Quinnipiac's win over Niagara, it knocked down 14 three-pointers. In seven of the Bobcats' 12 MAAC wins, they have made at least 10 or more three-pointers. Quinnipiac averages 8.7 made three-pointers per game which ranks first in the conference and 26th in the nation.

FABBRI NAMED NH REGISTER SPORTS PERSON OF THE YEAR

Quinnipiac women's basketball head coach, Tricia Fabbri was selected as the New Haven Register's Sports Person of the Year. Fabbri, the all-time winningest coach in Quinnipiac women's basketball history, takes home the achievement after leading Quinnipiac on its historic run to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 2017. In the NCAA Tournament, the Bobcats, the No. 12 seed, defeated No. 5 Marquette and No. 4 Miami on their way to their first-ever Sweet 16.

BACK-TO-BACK-TO-BACK

Quinnipiac entered the 2017-18 season as three-time defending MAAC regular season champions, earning the top record in conference play at 17-3 last year. Owning a 61-6 (.910) regular season mark against MAAC competition since the 2014-15 season where the Bobcats went 20-0 in MAAC play, Quinnipiac has dominated the league since joining in 2013-14. Now in exclusive company, Quinnipiac is one of just 13 programs in the nation (UConn, George Washington, Notre Dame, Baylor, DePaul, Maryland, Green Bay, Colorado State, Oregon State, South Carolina, Chattanooga and New Mexico State) to win three straight regular season titles entering 2017-18.

LEADER OF THE PACK

Head coach Tricia Fabbri enters her 23rd season leading the Bobcats in 2017-18, as the four-time Coach of the Year (twice in four MAAC seasons) and all-time winningest coach in program history came into the new campaign with 379 career victories. Engineering a program that ranks 10th in the nation in total wins (134) over the last four seasons, Fabbri's Bobcats have reached the 20-win plateau in six straight seasons, won three conference titles in the last five seasons and earned three consecutive MAAC Regular Season titles.

ANOTHER NATIONAL POSTSEASON APPEARANCE

Quinnipiac's third trip to the NCAA Tournament last year marked the sixth straight national postseason appearance for the Bobcats and the seventh in program history. The Bobcats earned its first national postseason appearance with a trip to Iona in the 2008 WNIT Tournament and then made a second WNIT Tournament appearance in 2012 against Temple. The first NCAA Tournament berth came in 2013 as the Bobcats earned a No. 13 seed to play at No. 4 Maryland. Quinnipiac also took home the 2015 MAAC Championship, claiming a No. 12 seed and facing No. 5 Oklahoma. In the 2014 and 2016 postseason, the Bobcats advanced to the WNIT, defeating Maine, 90-44, in 2016 for the program's first-ever postseason win.

2017-18 Quinnipiac University Women's Basketball

Game #24 • vs. Iona• TD Bank Sports Center (Hamden, Conn.)

FIRST NATIONALLY RANKED WINS COME AT RIGHT TIME

The Bobcats are 2-12 all-time against nationally-ranked competition and own an all-time mark of 9-36 against teams in high-major conferences (ACC, BIG EAST, Big 12, BIG, Pac-12 and SEC). After going 0-for-9 in their first nine games against ranked foes, Quinnipiac won two straight games against nationally-ranked opponents in the 2017 NCAA Tournament before bowing out to the eventual NCAA Champions South Carolina (this year's non-conference schedule has included losses to nationally ranked Missouri and Ohio State). Quinnipiac had its first ranked win in an NCAA First Round victory over a Marquette squad that came in ranked No. 25 in the USA Today Coaches' Poll and followed that up with a road triumph over No. 16 Miami. The Bobcats' six other wins over high-major foes have come against Alabama, Minnesota, St. John's (NY), Syracuse and Providence (three times, including this season on Dec. 6).

ALL-TEAM-FIRST MENTALITY

Quinnipiac has long preached the mantra of team-first and last season certainly is no different. Upon the announcement of the All-MAAC Teams, Quinnipiac found themselves with three All-League players – Adily Martucci (Second Team All-MAAC), Aryn McClure (Third Team) and Jen Fay (Third Team) – but none on the All-MAAC First Team. This marked the second time in the last three seasons (all of which have ended with Quinnipiac standing as the regular season champion in the MAAC) without representation on the All-MAAC First Team. Armed with a 54-6 record in the league over the last three seasons, Quinnipiac has just one All-MAAC First Team selection in that span (Samantha Guastella 2015 – Bobcats went 20-0 in the MAAC that season). In the 2016-17 season, the Bobcats stand as the only team in the nation to have won their conference's regular season title outright and not have a First Team All-Conference player (32 conferences in the country).

HITTING THAT MAGIC NUMBER

Quinnipiac's 76-60 win over Siena last season clinched yet another 20-win campaign for Head Coach Tricia Fabbri in 2016-17. The 11th 20-win season in program history made it six in-a-row as well as the eighth in Fabbri's 22-year coaching career at Quinnipiac. Quinnipiac is one of just 26 teams across the nation and one of 11 mid-major programs to record six straight 20+ win seasons. Over those last six complete seasons, Quinnipiac has compiled a record of 158-46 for a .775 win percentage which ranks as the 13th-best overall mark in the nation.

DEE-FENSE

Quinnipiac's defense led the MAAC all last season as the Bobcats allowed 58.6 points per game

(56th-best mark in the nation). Quinnipiac allowed fewer than 60 points per game for just the third time in the program's Div. I history (2015-16 – 58.7, 2012-13 – 57.4, 2007-08 – 58.7). In MAAC regular season games, Quinnipiac allowed a miniscule 53.3 PPG while opponents shot just 35.3 percent from the floor in conference play, both standards that led the MAAC. For the season, Quinnipiac allowed opponents to shoot 36.9 percent (39th-best in the nation) while also ranking 21st in the nation in steals per game (10.8). Allowing 0.777 points per possession (best in the MAAC), Quinnipiac held opponents to fewer than 70 points in 29-of-36 games last season including 20 of the last 23 contests. The Bobcats had a run of 19 straight games holding teams to fewer than 70 points snapped in the MAAC Championship game win over Rider.

MAAC WIN STREAK

Quinnipiac saw its streak of 25 consecutive MAAC conference victories end in a 61-58 loss at Monmouth last season. An impressive streak nevertheless, the Bobcats strung together 17 straight wins to end the 2015-16 regular season and eight straight to open the 2016-17 season. That dominance is rivaled in recent time only by Marist who put together a 30-game unbeaten streak in the MAAC regular season that stretched from 2011-12 to an undefeated 18-0 record in 2012-13 and ending in 2013-14.

TOP SPOT IN THE MAAC

Quinnipiac finished last season with the lead in eight different statistical categories, while the Bobcats ranked no worse than third out of 11 MAAC teams in 17 out of 21 major team statistics. Quinnipiac led the MAAC in scoring offense (68.4), scoring margin (+9.7), field goal percentage defense (36.9), blocked shots (4.9), assists (16.2), steals (10.8), turnover margin (+5.00) and assist/turnover ratio (1.11).

GOTTA LOVE THAT HOME COOKIN

Quinnipiac's extended home dominance is particularly impressive when looking at games against MAAC opponents, as the Bobcats stand with a mark of 37-4 (.902) at home in league games since joining the conference in 2013-14. That prominence is only magnified when looking at since 2014-15, as the Bobcats are 31-1 (.969) at the TD Bank Sports Center in conference games, with the only loss coming two years ago to Manhattan. After defeating Niagara at home to move to 3-0 in conference play, the Bobcats are currently riding a 21-game unbeaten streak in home games against MAAC foes.

2017-18 Quinnipiac University Women's Basketball

THE ULTIMATE CLOSERS

Quinnipiac has enjoyed a great deal of success over the past three seasons when building a first half lead. After starting 2016-17 with a mark of 2-0 when owning a halftime lead, the Bobcats saw one of their most impressive streaks in program history come to an end in a 71-68 loss at Temple. Quinnipiac's three-point loss signaled the first time the Bobcats had lost a game in which they held a halftime lead since the 2014 MAAC Championship game against Marist. The undefeated streak, which lasted over the course of three seasons, came to an end at 45 straight wins for the Bobcats when holding a halftime lead. Quinnipiac went undefeated in both 2014-15 (24-0) and 2015-16 (19-0) and for the first two games of 2016-17 before suffering the defeat. Overall, however, the Bobcats went 22-2 in the 2016-17 season to give Quinnipiac a mark of 58-2 since the start of 2014-15 in games in which Quinnipiac leads at the half, while this year's 14-0 record with halftime leads has improved that mark to 81-2 (.975).

THAT 70s SCORING SHOW

Since the 2007-08 season, Quinnipiac is 145-15 (.906) in games wherein the Bobcats score 70 or more points, including 68-2 (.971) combined since 2014-15. During 2016-17 (16-0), 2012-13 (18-0) and 2010-11 (8-0), the Bobcats compiled undefeated records in each respective season when reaching the 70-point scoring plateau. So far this year, Quinnipiac has won all 12 games when scoring 70 or more, improving its win streak in those contests to 37 in a row (the last defeat was a 71-70 loss in overtime to Florida Gulf Coast in 2015-16 - the last regulation loss was to Oklahoma in the 2015 NCAA Tournament).

BOY CAN THE BOBCATS PROTECT THE BALL

In its win over Fairfield on Jan. 20, Quinnipiac dished out 19 assists while committing only 9 turnovers. The Bobcats are currently in first place in the MAAC and ranked 18th in the nation in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.34). That's nothing new, though, as the team's philosophy is predicated on smart passes and protecting the ball on offense. Quinnipiac has ranked in the top two in the MAAC in assist/turnover ratio in each of the last five seasons while ranking Top 50 in the nation four times. The prolonged trend continued in 2016-17, as the Bobcats led the MAAC and ranked 46th in the nation in assist/turnover ratio (1.11).. Senior point guard

Carly Fabbri also currently leads the league individually and is ranked 12th in the nation with an impressive 2.97 ratio (94 assists, and only 32 turnovers through 23 games)

SECOND-HALF SECURITY

In Quinnipiac's first three MAAC contests, the Bobcats committed a total of five turnovers in the second half of those contests. That averages out to less than one turnover per 10 minutes of play.
