five steals, while Green added four. Arizona also held a 22-13 advantage in second-chance points.

FAMILIAR FACE ON THE OTHER BENCH

Iona assistant Cur'Tiera Haywood was on the Quinnipiac coaching staff last season when Arizona forward Anastasiia Semenova returned to action for Boston University after a 596-day absence. Semenova scored nine points in the 2025-26 opener against the Bobcats.

LAST TIME OUT

Arizona opened the season with an 84-69 win over Stanford in the Hall of Fame Series at T-Mobile Arena in Las Vegas. The Wildcats led wire-to-wire and placed five players in double figures, led by Hall of Fame Series Player of the Game Breanna Williams with a career-high 23 points and nine rebounds. Arizona's depth proved decisive as the Wildcats held a 40-14 advantage in bench scoring. Arizona also forced 30 turnovers, recorded 15 steals and finished with advantages in points off turnovers (25-18), second-chance points (22-13) and points in the paint (46-38).

NEW-LOOK CATS

Arizona entered Burke's second season with one of the most retooled rosters in the Big 12. The Wildcats returned just two players from last season in Sumayah Sugapong and Molly Ladwig while welcoming 11 newcomers to the 13-player roster. Arizona returned only 19.9 percent of its scoring from 2025-26, but the new group made an immediate impact in the opener, with newcomers accounting for 67 of Arizona's 84 points against Stanford. Burke used 18 different lineup combinations last season, a reflection of how much Arizona had to adjust personnel and rotations throughout her first year.

NO. 17 IN THE NATION

Burke's first full recruiting class at Arizona was ranked No. 17 nationally by ESPN and No. 1 among Big 12 programs. The class features three ESPN Top 100 signees in Arynn Finley, Jasleen Green and Makayla Presser-Palmer. The group made an immediate impact in the opener, with Finley, Green and Presser-Palmer combining for 28 points, nine rebounds and seven steals against Stanford.

SUGAPONG PICKS UP WHERE SHE LEFT OFF

After closing last season by averaging 18.0 points over Arizona's final seven Big 12 games, Sumayah Sugapong opened her senior campaign with 12 points and a game-high five steals against Stanford. The performance pushed Sugapong past 1,300 career points, giving her 1,302 entering Sunday's home opener against Iona.

VETERAN HAND AT THE POINT

Graduate guard Dionna Gray adds significant experience to Arizona's backcourt after spending four seasons at Kent State. Gray enters the year with 116 career games, 71 starts, 396 assists and 110 steals. She started all 31 games last season, averaging 4.9 assists per game while totaling 153 assists, 121 rebounds and 41 steals. Gray also brings championship experience after helping Kent State capture the MAC Tournament title and reach the NCAA Tournament during her career.

EARN THE A

Burke and her staff have continued to shape the program around the standard of "Earn The A," built on attitude, accountability, attention to detail and actions. The phrase represents how the Wildcats are expected to work, compete and represent Arizona every day. With a roster featuring 11 newcomers, the standard has also provided a common foundation as the Wildcats build chemistry around a largely new group.

SPOTLIGHT: BREANNA WILLIAMS

Breanna Williams wasted little time making an impact in an Arizona uniform. In her Wildcat debut against Stanford, the redshirt sophomore sset career highs with 23 points and nine rebounds, earning Hall of Fame Series Player of the Game honors. Williams shot 9-of-13 from the field, 5-of-6 from the free-throw line and finished with a game-best +25 in Arizona's 84-69 win. Her previous collegiate scoring high was 12 points.

The performance marked a major step in a college journey that has required patience. Williams arrived at Maryland as a nationally regarded prospect after a decorated prep career at Skyview High School. Ranked No. 45 nationally by ESPN, she earned Montana Gatorade Player of the Year honors twice and helped Skyview capture state championships as both a sophomore and senior.

Her college career, however, began in a way she had never experienced. Williams had always been accustomed to being on the floor, but Maryland elected to redshirt her as a freshman. What initially felt like a setback eventually became a developmental year in which she embraced scout-team reps, strength training and individual skill work while learning to view the experience differently.

"People make redshirting have a negative connotation, and I only knew it as a negative connotation," Williams said. "But then going through it, I'm like, 'No, it's good.'"

That experience helped shape what Williams wanted in her next program. When she entered the transfer portal, she was drawn to Becky Burke's competitiveness and direct approach.

"I think she's probably one of the grittiest people I know," Williams said of Burke. "I love a coach that's just gonna tell it to you straight." Burke was equally direct during Williams' visit to Tucson.

"She was like, 'If you don't want to compete for Big 12 championships, don't come here,'" Williams recalled. "I was like, bet."

Williams was already familiar with Arizona from growing up in the West and watching the Wildcats
