FROG FOCUS

Home Court Advantage

- TCU's unbeaten run at home reached quadruple digits on Monday. To be exact, come tipoff time on Tuesday, 1,001 days have passed since the Horned Frogs last lost inside Schollmaier Arena. TCU's most recent home defeat took place on Feb. 13, 2024.
- Not only is TCU's Schollmaier Arena winning streak the longest active unbeaten run at home in college basketball, it is also the 22nd longest Division I history.
- TCU's 60 home wins since 2023-24 lead the country. The Horned Frogs' home win percentage (.938) over the last three seasons is the eighth-highest in the country and ranks fourth at the Power Conference level, behind only South Carolina (.981), Texas (.966) and UCLA (.960).
- One of the aspects of TCU's home winning streak Campbell is most proud of is that all four of his teams have contributed to the unbeaten run. His inaugural Horned Frogs squad won its final three home games in 2023-24. TCU ran the table at home in each of the past two seasons, posting records of 21-0 in 2024-25 and 20-0 in 2025-26 inside Schollmaier Arena.
- Five of the 10 highest-attended TCU women's basketball home games belong to Campbell's squads.
- TCU earned its 20th victory of at least 40 points under Campbell with Sunday's 89-42 takedown of Tarleton State.
- The Texans became the 39th opponent unable to break 55 points vs. the Frogs' defense inside Schollmaier Arena.
- TCU is allowing just 53.1 points per game at home in the Campbell era.
- Whereas visitors struggle to put points on the board, Schollmaier Arena is where the Horned Frogs' spread pick-and-roll offense comes alive. TCU has recorded at least 20 assists in 37 of its 60 home wins under Campbell, including all three in 2026-27.
- TCU has dished out 20.3 assists per night on average at home since 2023-24.
- The Horned Frogs have reached double figures in deep balls at Schollmaier Arena on 29 instances over the last three-plus seasons.
- Campbell's TCU offenses have averaged exactly 80 points per game at home since he took the reins in 2023-24.
- A TCU player has posted a double-double 46 times at home in the Campbell era.

SERIES NOTES
- Much has changed since TCU and Iona first crossed paths. The Horned Frogs were members of the now-defunct Southwest Conference during their 92-49 defeat of the Gaels in 1994. TCU has since changed conferences four times.
- Now a national power in women's basketball, the 1994 victory over Iona was a bright spot in the most difficult era of Horned Frog women's hoops. TCU finished with a 5-20 overall record in 1993-94 and won just eight games in a three-season span through the 1995-96 campaign.
- Tuesday's ballgame marks the fifth time TCU will play a team from the Metro Athlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) and second such matchup under head coach Mark Campbell. TCU pitched an 87-34 defeat of MAAC member Mount St. Mary's on Dec. 22, 2023 in Campbell's first season in Fort Worth. The Horned Frogs ran the table at home in nonconference play for the first time ever with the win.
- TCU's all-time record vs. the MAAC sits at 3-1. The Horned Frogs own a victory over Canisius in addition to Iona and Mount St. Mary's. The lone loss came at the hands of St. Peter's on Dec. 30, 1991.
- Iona is completing a two-game Big 12 swing trip with its visit to Fort Worth. The Gaels battled Arizona on Sunday in Tucson, dropping a 74-61 decision.

Tonight's Matchup: TCU vs. Iona

A WIN OVER THE GAELS WOULD...

- Inch TCU within two victories of stretching its home streak to 50 games, a feat only one other Big 12 program - Baylor - has achieved.
- Put TCU within five wins inside Schollmaier Arena from tying for the 15th-longest D1 home winning streak (53 games).
- Stake TCU to its 40th consecutive nonleague win at home.
- Lift the Horned Frogs to their 27th straight win in the month of November dating back to 2022.
- Count as the Horned Frogs' 12th consecutive victory over an unranked team.
- Augment TCU's all-time nonconference record under Mark Campbell to 41-2.
- Move Campbell within nine victories of his 100th career win at TCU.
- Boost Campbell's Schollmaier Arena record to 61-4.
- Give Campbell his 130th career head coaching win.
- Go down as the Horned Frogs' 454th all-time nonconference victory.
- Be the 743rd all-time win in program history.

TCU will also earn the distinction of becoming just the 14th program to post a 50-game home winning streak.

21 Following its 62-59 overtime victory over Washington in the second round of the 2026 NCAA Tournament, TCU became the 21st Division I program to notch a home winning streak of 44 games or more. The Horned Frogs are one of three teams alongside South Carolina and Texas to achieve the feat this decade.

18 With victories over Iona and Southeastern Louisiana in its next two games, TCU's home winning streak will reach 49 games and tie for 18th on the NCAA Division I women's basketball ecord book for consecutive home wins. Rutgers (1977-81) and Stanford (1994-97) posted identical home winning streaks.

3 Not only is TCU's 47-game home winning streak the longest in all of college basketball, it is also the third-longest unbeaten run at home by any Big 12 program. Only Baylor, which won 69 straight games at the Ferrell Center from 2011-14 and 61 consecutive home games spanning 2016-20, holds a superior streak.

1,001 Come tipoff time on Tuesday, 1,001 days will have passed since TCU last suffered defeat inside Schollmaier Arena. A POINT GUARD'S PALACE

COME HERE, WIN PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Mark Campbell has coached the conference player of the year in four of his five seasons as a head coach, all of whom have been one-and-done transfer point guards.

- Last season, Olivia Miles became the second straight Campbell-coached point guard to sweep Big 12 Player of the Year and Newcomer of the Year accolades in the same season. Hailey Van Lith was the first Big 12 player to achieve the feat in 2024-25.
- Campbell's Sacramento State squads claimed Big Sky MVP accolades in both of his seasons in the state capital. Lianna Tillman received the recognition in in 2021-22, becoming first Hornet to win the award in the program's history, while Kahlaijah Dean won in 2022-23. Tillman transferred to Sac State following a four-year run at Pacific. Dean played her first four collegiate seasons at Oakland.

- While she would not have won Big 12 Player of the Year, Campbell's fifth transfer point guard, Jaden Owens, was enjoying a spectacular senior season of her own before a torn ACL and meniscus ended her career. Owens ranked second in the country in assists (115) and averaged 6.8 assists per game before suffering her injury on Jan. 13, 2024, in TCU's fifth conference game.

TCU AND THE NANCY LIEBERMAN AWARD

The Frogs have had a knack for contending for the Nancy Lieberman Award, both recently and over the course of their history.

- Ahead of the 2026-27 campaign, Jadyn Wooten became the fifth TCU player to be selected to a Lieberman Award watch list and third in as many years. All four of her Horned Frog predecesors earned All-American accolades.

SPREAD PICK AND ROLL: TCU OFFENSIVE NOTABLES

A SHIFT IN SCORING BALANCE

One of the most notable nuances of the 2026-27 TCU roster compared to past seasons is its rotational depth, and the enhanced cast of playmakers is likely to be reflected in the points breakdown between the starting five and second five.

- Last season, TCU's primary lineup of Taylor Bigby, Donovyn Hunter, Olivia Miles, Clara Silva and Marta Suarez was the fifth highest-scoring starting five in all of college basketball at 64.2 points per game. The group was resoonsible for 83.5 percent of TCU's offensive output.
- The 2024-25 campaign offered a similar breakdown. TCU's most common starting lineup - Hunter, Hailey Van Lith, Sedona Prince, Madison Conner and Agnes Emma-Nnopu - averaged 61.9 combined points per outing, good for 79.5 percent of the Horned Frogs' cumulative scoring.

Percentage of Points from Starters
Last Three Seasons
2026-27: 59.5 percent (169 points)
2025-26: 83.5 percent (2,436 points)
2024-25-24: 79.5 percent (2,319 points)

- TCU is expected to employ a deep bench and mix up its starting lineup combinations in the early going to begin the 2026-27 campaign. Giving grist to the likelihood of a more balanced scoresheet, more than 40 percent of TCU's offensive output thus far has been generated via its second unit. At least seven Horned Frogs have scored six-or-more points all three of TCU's wins.
- TCU has benefitted from 14 double digit scoring efforts across three games, but no Horned Frog has reached 20 points.

GET GOOD SHOTS, ALWAYS

A staple of Mark Campbell and associate head coach Xavier Lopez's spread pick and roll offense is prioritizing quality looks, namely 3-pointers and paint touches, over midrange jumpshots.

- The Horned Frogs have maintained a near-even points distribution from behind the arc and in the paint in the Campbell era. TCU has scored 42 percent of its points in the paint and 37 percent via the long ball.
- 94 percent of TCU's total offensive output since 2023 has been generated off off 3-pointers, paint touches and free throws.
- In 2025-26, 95 percent of TCU's total points scored came via 3-pointers, points in the paint and free throws.
- The Frogs are 72-7 in the Campbell era when generating more points in the paint than their opponent. TCU was 26-1 in 2024-25 when finishing with the advantage.
- TCU has outscored its opponent in the paint and from behind the arc in 51 games overall and 23 times vs. Big 12 opponents since 2024-25. The Frogs finished with the edge in both catetories in 26-of-38 games last season.

TCU has had four players score in double figures 41 times since 2024-25.

- The Frogs are 39-2 overall in the Mark Campbell era and 33-1 dating back to March of 2024 when four players tally at least 10 points in the same game.
- TCU benefitted from four double-digit scorers in 14 games in 2025-26.
- TCU went 15-0 in 2024-25 when four players reached double digits.

DIALING IT UP ON DEFENSE

Though widely regarded for its high-powered offense, TCU's prowess at the other end of the court stacks up among the nation's best

IT'S TOUGH TO BY A BUCKET VS. TCU

- TCU ranks fifth in all of Division I in field goal percentage defense (.358) in the Mark Campbell era. Among Power Conference teams, only South Carolina (.343) has held opponents to a lower clip from the field.
- In 2025-26, the Horned Frogs ranked second only to UConn among all D1 teams in field goal percentage defense (.340).

Under Mark Campbell

2026-27: .299
2025-26: .340
2024-25: .369
2023-24: .369

- Nearly three-quarters of the Power Conference teams TCU faced (18-26) in 2025-26 shot under 40 percent from the field vs. the Frogs' defense.
- The 2025-26 campaign also saw TCU limit an NCAA-leading 15 teams below 30 percent shooting.
- TCU last season was one of three teams in the country that posted a year-end field goal percentage of at least .465 while holding its opponents below 37 percent shooting. The others were UConn and South Carolina.

2026-27	.515 / /299 (+.216)
2025-26	.468 / .340 (+.128)
2024-25	.475 / .369 (+.106)
2023-24	.435 / .369 (+.060)

- TCU has done an equally apt job at defending the 3-point line in the Campbell era. Opponents have converted just 28.9 percent of their attempts from distance vs. TCU since 2023-24. That clip is the sixth-best at the Power Conference level, behind LSU, South Carolina, Texas Tec, Kentucky, and Notre Dame.

A HORNED FROGS BLOCK PARTY

TCU has consistently benefitted from elite rim protection throughout the Mark Campbell era.

- The Horned Frogs have finished with six-or-more blocks in 45 percent of their games (50-112) over the last three seasons and eight in 2025-26. They are 45-4 overall and 36-1 since 2024-25 when hitting the marker. The lone loss in that span came in the Elite Eight of the 2026 NCAA Tournament vs. South Carolina.
- TCU's 50 games with at least six blocks are the fourth-most of any D1 team over the last four seasons. Only South Carolina (67), USC (57) and Kentucky (52) have more six-block performances in that span.
- TCU has tallied a Campbell era record 12 blocks on three occasions, most recently in an 82-43 victory over North Carolina A&T to open the 2025-26 season.
- TCU's 600 blocks over the last three seasons are the third-most of any team nationwide.

SUB-40 TEMPERATURES

- Under Mark Campbell, TCU is 72-5 when teams fail to shoot better than 40 percent vs. the Horned Frogs' defense.
- Inside Schollmaier Arena, Campbell-led teams have kept 52 of 64 opponents at-or-below a 40 percent clip from the field.
- In Big 12 regular season games, the Horned Frogs have prevented 30-of-36 opponents from shooting better than 40 percent. TCU is 27-3 in such games.

- TCU has finished in the top-10 nationally in scoring margin for two straight seasons.
- TCU ranked third in points per game differential (+39.4) leading into Big 12 play in 2025-26. TCU was 11th nationally in the category ahead of the start of conference play in both 2023-24 and 2024-25.

A DEEPER DIGEST ON TCU WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

TCU ATHLETICS RUNS IN HER BLOOD

While Fort Worth may not be where Camille Williams began her college basketball career, in some ways, it was inevitable she'd find her way to TCU.

- The 5-11 guard is the second member of her family to suit up for TCU women's basketball and a Horned Frogs Athletics double legacy. Both of her parents were standout TCU athletes.
- Her mother, Ginger Usher Williams, lettered four times under former TCU women's basketball head coach Mike Petersen from 1995-99.
- Her father, Syan Williams, was a two-year letterman for TCU track and won a national title as a member of the Horned Frogs' 4x100 relay team at the 1998 NCAA Championships. He ran the third leg in the title-winning sprint relay. Williams' father also claimed Western Athletic Conference championships in the 55m and 200m that same year and still holds the TCU school record in the 55m.

Ginger Usher Williams lettered four tiems for TCU women's basketball from 1995-99.

- Though Williams signed with Miami in 2025 and spent her freshman campaign on South Beach. TCU, though, was always in the picture. TCU was the team Williams rooted for growing up. Williams received her first scholarship offer from the Horned Frogs in 2020 when she was in the eighth grade.
- Notably, Williams is the first Fort Worth native to suit up for TCU women's basketball in 12 seasons. The last TCU player to suit up for the Horned Frogs who calls Fort Worth home was Natalie Ventress in 2014-15.

Syan Williams won an NCAA Championship with the TCU track and field team in 1998.

"MIRROR MIRROR ON THE WALL, WHO IS THE TALLEST OF THEM ALL?"

Standing 6'8 1/2", Sarah Portlock is a historically huge presence in TCU's frontcourt.

- Portlock is the tallest player in the Big 12 and fourth-tallest in all of college basketball, trailing only 7-1 Stephanie Okechukwu of Texas Tech, 6-10 Nicole Dominguez of Middle Tennessee and Charleston Southern's Celina Vilcinskas (6-9).
- She is also the tallest player to suit up for TCU. Portlock surpassed Lindsey Prewitt, who stood 6-8 while playing for the Horned Frogs from 2001-03, as TCU's tallest ever.
- There are only 13 players in Division I women's basketball who are 6-7 or taller, and two of them play for TCU. Portlock and Clara Silva (6-7), make the Horned Frogs one of just two programs with two players at least 6-7.

College Basketball Players 6-7 or Taller
Stephanie Okechukwu | 7-1 | Texas Tech
Nicole Dominguez | 6-10 | Middle Tennessee
Celina Vilcinskas | 6-9 | Charleston Southern
Sarah Portlock | 6-8 1/2 | TCU
Clara Silva | 6-7 | TCU
Happy Arune | 6-7 | Charleston Southern
Zou Garba | 6-7 | Cincinnati
Achol Magot | 6-7 | Sacramento State
Xiao Zhang | 6-7 | Iowa State
Hawa Doumbouya | 6-7 | West Virginia
Avery Gordon | 6-7 | Purdue
Alicia Tournebize | 6-7 | South Carolina
Mojca Jelenc | 6-7 | Oklahoma State

THE YOUTH MOVEMENT

TCU went from being the senior citizens of college basketball to a pack of youngsters seemingly overnight.

- The Horned Frogs fielded the oldest roster in college basketball in each of the past two years. That clearly is not the case this time around. Seven of the 12 players on the Horned Frogs' roster are playing their first collegiate season. Just three Frogs - Lanie Grant, Clara Silva and Jadyn Wooten - have spent more than one season in the D1 ranks.

TCU WBB Average Opening Night Age
2024-25: 21.11
2025-26: 21.07
2026-27: 19.68

- Last year, TCU featured graduating seven seniors on its roster. Fast forward 12 months and the Horned Frogs do not house a true senior. Claudia Contell is the lone Frog listed as a senior, but even that comes with an asterisk. Contell has an additional year of eligibility remaining and is also playing her first season of college ball.
- Contell is the lone TCU player who has celebrated her 21st birthday. By contrast, TCU was home to five players age-23 or older when the NCAA Tournament rolled around in March of 2026.

Career Minutes Played by the Horned Frogs
2025-26: 27,531
2026-27: 6,897

- TCU's 2025-26 roster had collectively spent more time combined on the court than any other team in the country. This time around, the Horned Frogs entered the season having lost 83 percent of their total minutes played from the previous campaign. TCU saw 6,354 miuntes evaporate to graduation or the transfer portal.
- Now a household name in college women's basketball, TCU's ability to put pen to paper with the top high school players and backfill its roster with underclassmen is likely to pay off in a big way in the coming years. Two-thirds of the Horned Frogs' roster - 8-12 players - have at least four seasons of eligibility remaining while all players sans Contell are guaranteed at least three more years as a collegian.

POWER IN THE PORTAL

The transfer portal remains an inexact science, but TCU has come as close to any program at mastering the pipeline.

- TCU has signed 24 players from the transfer portal over the last four years, six in each recruiting cycle.
- A quarter of TCU's portal signees (6-24) have become All-Big 12 players, four of whom earned at least one set of All-American accolades. Five of TCU's transfer players went on to hear their names called in the WNBA Draft.

- TCU's opening night roster was comprised exclusively of first or second-year transfers in each of head coach Mark Campbell's first three seasons. All 38 of the Horned Frogs' starting lineup combinations in 2026-27 featured five transfer players. The Frogs starting lineup was built entirely through the transfer portal in all-but-one game (37-38) in 2024-25.
- TCU has started five transfer players in 81 percent of its games (91-112) in the Mark Campbell era.

FROGS IN THE WNBA

The Horned Frogs' emerging status as a major player in college basketball is reinforced by its presence on WNBA Draft night

- Over the last two seasons, TCU has produced five WNBA Draft picks, the fourth-most of any team in the country. Three Horned Frogs heard their names called in 2026. The three draft choices were level with South Carolina for the third-most of any team. Only UCLA (6) and Kentucky (4) had more picks.

WNBA Draft Picks Since 2025
Olivia Miles | No. 2 - Minnesota Lynx | 2026
Hailey Van Lith | No. 11 - Chicago Sky | 2025
Marta Suarez | No. 16 - Seattle Storm | 2026
Madison Conner | No. 34 - Seattle Storm | 2025
Taylor Bigby | No. 37 - Portland Fire | 2026

- Miles' selection as the No. 2 overall pick in the 2026 WNBA was a historic moment for TCU Athletics. The eventual WNBA Rookie of the Year, Miles gave TCU its second-highest professional draft pick in any sport and highest in the modern era. Miles became the first TCU student-athlete to be chosen No. 1 or No. 2 overall in his or her respective draft since Charles "Ki" Aldrich of TCU football was tabbed with the top pick in the 1939 NFL Draft.

FROGS GONE GLOBAL

The 2026-27 TCU women's basketball roster packs some serious international punch

CROSSING ALL CORNERS OF THE GLOBE

- Eleven of the 12 players on the Horned Frogs' 2026-27 roster represent a different state or country. Only Jessie-May Hall and Sarah Portlock, who hail from Australia, share the same nationality.
- For the first time in program history, TCU is rostering more international players than domestic players. Only five Horned Frogs are originally from the United States.
- The Frogs' seven international players are tied for the ninth-most of any team in college basketball.
- TCU is one of only four Power Conference teams with at least seven international players and seven different countries represented on its roster.

THE FIRST OF THEIR KIND

In addition to being standout basketball players, Clara Bielefeld (Germany), Clara Silva (Portugal), Lara Somfai (Hungary) and Laura Vilcinskas (Belgium) are the first players to ever suit up for TCU women's basketball from their respective home countries.

The First TCU Basketball Players From...

Clara Bielefeld
Recklinghausen, Germany

Clara Silva
Faro, Portugal

Lara Somfai
Mór, Hungary

Laura Vilcinskas
De Pinte, Belgium

- Silva, and Vilcinskas are especially unique in that they are the only TCU student-athletes hailing from their respective nations.
- Bielefeld is one of only two German student-athletes at TCU. The other is Maya Drozd of Horned Frog women's tennis.
- Somfai became the third active TCU student-athlete from Hungary when she signed with the Horned Frogs in April, joining Sarolta Bozsolik of rifle and Eszter Kovács of swimming and diving.
- Somfai and Vilcinskas' lineages are rarities when it comes to college women's basketball. They are one of just four players from their respective home countries listed on a Division I roster. Somfai is also one of two Hungarians competing for a Power Conference team.

BUDDIES ON THE IBERIAN PENINSULA

TCU is the sole Division 1 program with a player from Portugal and a player from Spain on its 2026-27 roster in Claudia Contell (Valencia, Spain) and Clara Silva (Faro, Portugal).

- Contell's arrival in May marked the second straight season in which TCU rostered at least one player from both countries. Marta Suarez of Oviedo, Spain played alongside Silva in the frontcourt in 2025-26. Contell is only the second Horned Frogs women's basketball player who calls Spain home.

"AUSSIE AUSSIE AUSSIE, OI OI OI"

TCU and head coach Mark Campbell continue to actively recruit the Australian basketball pipeline.

- With the addition of freshman Jessie-May Hall, TCU has had at least one Australian player on its roster for 11 consecutive seasons.
- Hall is the seventh Aussie to compete for the Horned Frogs since 2016.

Agnes Emma Nnopu (2023-25)

Sarah Portlock (2025-Present)
Jessie-May Hall (2026-Present)

- Campbell, who coached NBA guards Patty Mills and Matthew Dellavedova at Saint Mary's from 2008-10, has always made the continent a priority in recruiting. Now in his 16th season coaching on the women's side, Campbell has recruited or coached 11 Australian players when including Hall. He mentored six Aussies during his tenure as associate head coach at Oregon from 2014-21, including 2024 WNBA draft pick Jaz Shelley.

WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD

- TCU's 2026-27 roster has combined to win 12 FIBA gold medals and 14 total at the U16-U20 levels.
- Clara Silva and Clara Bielefeld have both medaled as active members of the TCU roster. Silva led Portugal to gold at the FIBA U20 EuroBasket in July. Bielefeld guided Germany to a silver medal at the 2025 U19 EuroBasket.

Detailing the Digits

Notes about the Horned Frogs' jersey numbers

#0 Camille Williams is the sixth player in program history to wear No. 0 and third in the last five seasons. She has donned number since high school.

#1 Avery Hjlemstad received the No. 1 jersey on her seventh grade AAU basketball team and stuck with the digits throughout her club career. She wore No. 10 in high school and decided to "Drop the 0" and revert back to No. 1 ahead of her freshman season at Utah.

#3 Bella Hines is the first TCU guard since Madison Conner in 2023-24 to rep the No. 3 jersey. She was given the number as a freshman at Eldorado high school and has stuck with it since.

#6 Jadyn Wooten is the first player in program history to wear No. 6.

- Wooten selected the digits becuse the number six in biblical numerology is interpreted as a symbol of humanity, labor and imperfection. It reminds her that "God creates imperfect people like me and does good through them."

#7 Jessie-May Hall joined 2026 All-American Marta Suarez as one of two Horned Frogs to rep the No. 7 jersey. It is the same number her mother wore as a competitive athlete.

#11 Lanie Grant's No. 11 is the most-worn jersey in TCU women's basketball history. She is the 19th Horned Frog to rep the digits.

#12 Lara Somfai's No. 12 is the first jersey number she was given. For her, it serves as a reminder of why she started playing and her family.

#15 Sarah Portlock selected No. 15 because it's the number she wore while competing for Basketball Australia.

#16 Clara Bielefeld is the first TCU women's player to wear No. 16. It is her mother's favorite number.

#17 Clara Silva is the first Horned Frogs' men's or women's basketball player to wear No. 17.

#18 Laura Vilcinskas is the first TCU player to wear No. 18.

- Vilcinskas adds two numerals to her jersey number each time she starts a new chapter in her basketball career. She started with the No. 12 in youth basketball, wore No. 14 for her club team, donned No. 16 for Kangoeroes in the BNXT League, and will rep the No. 18 jersey for TCU.

#23 Claudia Contell has worn No. 23 throughout her entire basketball career. She says it is her lucky number.

FROGS ON THE BIG SCREEN

In another testement to its emergence as a national power, TCU women's basketball is featuring prominently on the national airwaves.

- TCU received a program-record and Big 12 leading 14 national telecasts ahead of the 2026-27 regular season. The number is one shy of the 15 TCU women's basketball games - eight regular season, seven postseason - that were selected for linear television in 2025-26.
- When the Big 12 Tournament rolls around in March, TCU will have tipped off on the big screen 40 times in the Mark Campbell era.
- Prior Campbell's arrival, TCU last hosted a national broadcast in 2019-20.
- TCU competed to a 10-2 record on national television in 2024-25 and are 20-6 on the big screen over the past two years.

HIGH HONORS FOR HALL

- She is just the fourth TCU freshman to receive all-conference recogntion from the Big 12 in any capacity. Zahna Medley is the lone Horned Frog to be cited to the Big 12 All-Freshman team. Medley, along with Mikayla Christian and Amber Ramirez, garnered Big 12 Freshman of the Week honors at least once in their careers.

MATCHING CHAMPIONSHIP EXPECTATIONS

TCU won the undisputed Big 12 championship after being picked first in both the Big 12 Preseason Coaches Poll and Media Poll for the first time ever in 2025-26.

- The preseason honors marked only the third time the Horned Frogs entered a season as the betting favorite to cut down the conference championship nets.
- Last season's first place prediction was its first in 15 years. The last time TCU was picked first in a preseason coaches poll was in 2010, when the Frogs were tabbed first in the Mountain West Preseason Coaches Poll in their final season of membership before joining the Big 12. TCU was first picked to win a conference championship in 2003-04 in its penultimate season as a Conference USA affiliate.
