The Pioneers close conference play on Friday, Feb. 27 at home against Mount St. Mary's. The 2026 MAAC Men's Basketball Championship will take place March 5-10 at Jim Whelan Boardwalk Hall in Atlantic City, N.J. Under the MAAC format, each team plays 20 league games but does not face four opponents twice. This year, SHU will not play Siena, Iona, Saint Peter's, or Manhattan in home-and-home series.

INSIDE THE RANKINGS

Sacred Heart's offense ranks third in the MAAC at 79.8 points per game. The Pioneers lead the conference with 95 made three-pointers, averaging 11.9 per game tied for eighth nationally. SHU also sits tied for 14th in the country in three-point attempts per game (32.2). Dashon Gittens is third in the MAAC in scoring at 16.6 ppg. Anquan Hill is sixth in scoring at 15.6 points per game and is 10th in the league in rebounding (5.9 rpg). Dashon Gittens owns the sixth-best field-goal percentage in the conference at 58.1%. Nyle Ralph-Beyer (.484) Yann Farell (.447) both rank inside the MAAC's top 10 in three-point percentage and are 25th and 28th in the nation, respectively. Mekhi Conner ranks second in the conference with 5.0 assists per game and holds the second-best assist-to-turnover ratio at 2.5. Gittens also ranks fourth in the league in steals at 2.4 per game.

SHAKING IT UP

Sacred Heart navigated injuries to start the season, resulting in frequent changes to its lineup. Taj Bryant earned a spot in the starting five at Villanova, filling in for Dashon Gittens, who missed one game with an upper-body injury. Gittens returned for the following matchup against Queens, but the Pioneers were without Nyle Ralph-Beyer due to a lower-body injury, keeping Bryant in the starting role. After three straight losses, SHU adjusted its lineup again as Jaden Slaughter and Fallou Gueye started against Holy Cross, while Mekhi Conner and Bryant came off the bench. Conner made his way back into the starting five against Penn State, while Gueye came in off the bench. In the MAAC opener at Mount, SHU returned to its original starting five. In total, the Pioneers have used five different starting lineups through the first eight games. Anquan Hill and Yann Farell remain the only players to start all games.

SHU CORE

There are 9 players from last year's roster, including three starters. Head coach Anthony Latina added two transfer impact players: senior Dashon Gittens (FIU) and junior Yann Farell (St. Bonaventure). There are four first-years, highlighted by three-star recruit Abdou Yadd.

GITTENS X3

For the first time since the 2021-22 season, the Pioneers will feature brothers on the roster. Senior transfer Dashon Gittens and first-year guard Mooda Gittens will suit up together for SHU. Their older brother, Donte Gittens, serves as an assistant coach and has been on staff since the 2022-23 season. The Hartford, Conn. natives are excited for the opportunity to represent their home state together.

AFRICAN CONNECTION

Sacred Heart has become a meaningful destination for African talent. The 2025-26 roster features three players from Africa: returning sophomore guard Fallou Gueye and first-year forward Abdou Yadd, both from Senegal, along with junior transfer Yann Farell, a native of Gabon. SHU assistant coach Jeremy Kipness also brings deep ties to the continent, having spent three months in Senegal as a player development intern with Sports for Education and Economic Development (SEED). His experience aided in recruiting both Yadd and Farell and helped Gueye, who arrived prior to Kipness, feel more supported in his transition to Connecticut. Gueye and Yadd came to SHU from Putnam Science Academy, a nationally recognized prep program in Connecticut. As a teenager, Farell attended the NBA Academy Africa in Senegal, which partners with SEED Academy. All three Pioneer standouts can speak Wolof, French, and English.

HOMEGROWN

The Pioneers continue to keep top local talent in state, with three players hailing from Connecticut: brothers Dashon and Mooda Gittens from Hartford and Mekhi Conner from New Haven. Conner starred at Notre Dame-West Haven, leading the program to back-to-back SCC Championships, a CIAC Division I State Semifinal run, and a CIAC Division I State Championship appearance before heading to Putnam Science Academy. Dashon Gittens also played at Putnam Science, earning All-Power 5 Conference Second Team honors in 2022. He previously competed at Woodstock Academy and Weaver High School, where he was a GameTimeCT All-State Second Team selection. Mooda Gittens was a standout at Cheney Tech, guiding the team to two consecutive state championship appearances and finishing as one of Connecticut's leading scorers.

SOPHOMORE SUCCESS

Sacred Heart retained its entire first-year class from last season — a key step in building continuity. Mekhi Conner and Nyle Ralph-Beyer were instrumental in SHU's success during its MAAC debut and both earned preseason All-MAAC honors, with Conner named to the Second Team and Ralph-Beyer to the Third. Ralph-Beyer shot .430 from three-point range, fourth in the MAAC, and posted a .450 field-goal percentage, ranking top-20 in the conference. He appeared in all 32 games and moved into the starting lineup for the final eight contests. Fallou Gueye appeared in 29 games with four starts, scoring in double figures three times and matching a career-high 12 points twice. He averaged 1.3 assists per game. Taj Bryant saw action in 12 games and provided strong minutes late in the season, averaging 2.5 points and 2.0 rebounds.

SCOUTING THE GAELS

- Iona enters the game with a 6–3 record and an 0–1 mark in MAAC play after suffering a loss in its conference opener, 89-68 against Quinnipiac on Friday at home.
- The Gaels were picked sixth in the MAAC Preseason Poll.
- With a new head coach, Iona's roster features 15 newcomers and just two returners from last year's squad.
- Four Gaels are averaging double figures: CJ Anthony (15.9), Lamin Sabally (13.4), Kosy Akametu (13.2), and Toby Harris (10.9).
- Sabally (8.4) and Akametu (6.5) lead the team on the boards.

Entering his 13th season at the helm of the Sacred Heart University men's basketball program in 2025-26, Anthony Latina has engineered a strong resurgence of the Pioneers' program during his tenure. Sacred Heart is in a new era as it just completed its first year in the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) in 2024-25.

In his first year in the MAAC, Latina led the Pioneers to a 10-10 league record, finishing the season seventh overall. SHU made its first appearance in the MAAC Championships in Atlantic City, N.J., picking up its first MAAC postseason win, taking down Fairfield, 71-58, to advance to the quarterfinals. The Pioneers fell to Merrimack, 66-62, after staging a late comeback to force overtime. Sacred Heart had three athletes earn All-MAAC recognition in its first year in the league.

Prior to the MAAC, Latina and the Pioneers made 10 Northeast Conference Tournament appearances, including back-to-back top-four finishes in the final two seasons and six straight appearances from 2019-24.

Latina's strong ability to recruit talented student-athletes and focus on player development annually had Sacred Heart amongst the leaders in the NEC's postseason awards. During his time as head coach, Latina has produced the program's first Defensive Player of the Year (Jare'l Spellman) and Player of the Year (Cane Broome), along with a pair of Most Improved Players (Tyler Thomas and E.J. Anosike). In addition to the major award winners, 16 athletes were named to All-NEC teams, and SHU has had six players named to the NEC All-Rookie team during Latina's tenure.

The 2019-20 season saw Sacred Heart have its best campaign at the Division I level as the Pioneers won 20 games and advanced to the semifinals of the NEC Tournament. The 2019-20 squad was the first Pioneer team to reach 20 wins since the 1988-89 season and was the first team to reach that mark in the DI era. The team also won its first postseason game since 2009, earning a 61-59 win over Mount Saint Mary's.

During the 2015-16 campaign, Latina led the Pioneers to a second-place finish in the NEC and coached the NEC Player of the Year, Broome. Broome is the only player in program history to win the conference's Player of the Year honor and the second sophomore in league history to win the award. Broome led the NEC and ranked 10th nationally in scoring during the season.

Latina took over the reins of the Sacred Heart program after spending eight seasons as an assistant under the legendary Dave Bike. He joined Bike's staff in 2005-06 after spending the previous six seasons as an assistant coach at Central Connecticut State University. At CCSU, he helped guide the Blue Devils to two NCAA Tournament appearances and three trips to the NEC title game. He was part of the staff that helped produce the first-ever NBA draft pick from CCSU, Corsley Edwards, who was taken in the second round by the Sacramento Kings in 2002.

Before joining Central Connecticut's staff, Latina worked for four years as an assistant coach at Division II UMass-Lowell.

Latina was a four-year starter and two-year captain as a point guard at Brandeis University. He was part of the 1991-92 squad that won the ECAC Championship. An honor student in the classroom, Latina also received the Athletic Director's Award and Stein Attitude and Dedication to Basketball Award at Brandeis. He earned his undergraduate degree in history and American Studies from Brandeis and his Master's in Education from UMass-Lowell.

The Connecticut native was a captain of the 1990-91 Connecticut State Championship team at South Catholic High School under legendary coach Joe Reilly.

Latina and his wife, Jodi, and children, Luke and Zoe reside in Wethersfield, Conn.
