Siena Basketball Class of 2030

Edmond Gilliland Moesch Thet

Head coach Gerry McNamara announced the addition of four commitments to the Saints incoming recruiting class in November

Parrish Edmond, Jr.

6-7 | 190 | G | Norwalk, CT/Putnam Science Academy

"Parrish is an elite-level talent on the wing with explosive athleticism. He can impact a game in a lot of different ways on both ends. Parrish has a high motor in the way he plays and trains that is going to maximize his incredibly high ceiling as a player."

Edmond was ranked the third best overall recruit in Connecticut, 40th best overall player in the East Region, and 36th best shooting guard nationally in the Class of 2026 by ESPN's SportsCenter NEXT. He was also ranked the third best prospect in Connecticut in the New England Recruiting Report 2026 rankings.

Edmond started for last season's National Prep Champion PSA Cardinals while earning New England Basketball League Honorable Mention acclaim. He previously played for Notre Dame Prep.

Edmond starred on the AAU circuit for the Albany City Rocks, and averaged 11.8 points and 5.8 rebounds last summer at Peach Jam.

Christian Gilliland

6-2 | 165 | G | Memphis, TN/Pearl River CC (MS)

"Christian is a high-flying combo guard who comes to us with a great pedigree. He is a hard worker who has an elite upside on both sides of the ball."

Gilliland currently stars for Pearl River Community College in Poplarville, Mississippi. Through his first six games with the Wildcats (as of his signing announcement Nov. 18) he was averaging 25.3 points on 60% shooting including 57% from three-point range, while adding 3.3 assists.

Gilliland, who first announced his commitment to Siena back in June, averaged 26 points per game last season while headlining ABC Prep in Albuquerque, New Mexico, earning an All-Star Game selection in The Grind Session, an elite prep conference.

Ryan Moesch

6-1 | 170 | G | Chittenango, NY/Cushing Academy (MA)

"Ryan is must-see TV with the basketball in his hands. He has that fast twitch change of pace that you can't teach, but the thing that separates him most is his elite eyesight and the ability to read defenses to control a game. I love that Ryan doesn't care if he has to score to beat you or do it with the pass, just as long as his team wins."

A four-star recruit according to both ESPN and 247 Sports, Moesch is ranked the 137th best player overall in the Class of 2026 by 247 Sports, including the 14th ranked point guard, and fourth best player in Massachusetts. He is also ranked the 39th best point guard nationally, 63rd best overall player in the East Region, and seventh best overall recruit in Massachusetts by ESPN's SportsCenter NEXT.

He averaged over 36 points per game the previous season while playing for his hometown, Chittenango.

Bol Wieu Thet

6-10 | 195 | C | Aweil, South Sudan/Springdale Prep (MD)

"Bol has huge upside. His ability to guard defensively in space, with both length and athleticism allows him to potentially guard any position. Bol still plays physically and has elite rim shot blocking presence. Offensively, he has great touch and can stretch to the three-point line with expanded ball-handling ability. His best days are ahead of him, and all the tools are there to continue to improve."

Thet plays for Springdale Prep in North Windsor, Maryland, where he averaged 14 points and nine rebounds last season. Thet broke out for Global Squad this past summer, averaging a double-double with 17 points, 11 rebounds, and two blocks.
