HEAD COACH ALI JAQUES

New York University '98
(Seventh Season at Siena)
Overall Record: 94-108

In just six short seasons Ali Jaques has put Siena Women's Basketball back on the map. Under her leadership the Saints enter the 2018-19 season with a second straight third place ranking in the MAAC Preseason Coaches' Poll, after putting up the most overall wins in the program in four years.

Prior to their success last season, the Saints recorded 13 conference wins for the most victories since 2003-04 following a MAAC Preseason third place pick.

In 2017-18, Jaques helped collect the program's highest overall win total since 2014-15, when her Saints won 22 games and advanced to the championship game of the Women's Basketball Invitational. Siena won 17 games, and advanced to the MAAC semifinals.

Jaques guided the Saints to a 22-13 overall record during the 2014-15 season which marked the program's first winning season in 11 years and most victories in a dozen seasons. Siena's 13-win improvement from the previous season was tied for the second best turnaround in all of Division I and the Saints' 12 true road wins were tied for the fourth most nationally. Additionally, for the third time in Jaques' first three seasons, the Saints won their MAAC Tournament opener as the lower seeded team.

Siena was rewarded for its success with a trip to the Women's Basketball Invitational and became the first school in MAAC history to win three games in a national postseason tournament and advance to the championship game. The Saints defeated Big East foe Xavier in the quarterfinals in Cincinnati by 20 points, marking the program's largest margin of victory ever over a current member of one of the six major conferences (ACC, Big 12, Big East, Big Ten, Pac-12, SEC).

- The Saints' point total was their second-most on the season, (86 at Howard on Nov. 19, and marked the second time that the team had eclipsed the 80-point threshold. Siena had not done so multiple times in a season since 2016-17 (4x).
- The squad was victorious in its conference opener for the third time in the last four seasons, extending its winning streak over the Peacocks to 17 straight dating back to 2010.
- Four different Saints posted double-digit scoring totals in the win, with redshirt-senior Aaliyah Jones matching her season high of 15 points in her first start of the season. Junior Maddie Sims steadied the team with 11 boards, matching her career high and coming a point away from her third consecutive double-double.
- Aside from Sims, Jones tied a career mark in field goals made (7), while junior Sabrina Piper matched collegiate bests in rebounds (7) and assists (7).
- After holding a seven-point lead at the half, the Saints exploded for a 31-point effort in the third quarter, matching a program record for a period since the NCAA switched from halves to quarters prior to the 2015-16 campaign. The team also posted 31 points in the fourth quarter of a conference win at Canisius on Feb. 8, 2017.
- Siena's 24 assists in the win were the team's most since having 27 helps in a 79-44 win at Niagara on Jan. 26, 2006.

Siena Basketball Class of 2023

The Siena Women's Basketball program and head coach Ali Jaques are excited to announce the first two signings of their 2023 incoming class, with the additions of Angel Parker and Julia Hauer to the Green and Gold as the pair signed their National Letters of Intent during the NCAA's Early Signing period. Both will enroll at Siena in the fall.

"Julia and Angel are players we targeted as a staff from the first time we saw them play," said head coach Ali Jaques. "We are excited to bring in two New York players who have had tremendous success in their respective catholic high schools throughout their entire careers."

Parker, a 5'6 point guard from Buffalo, comes to Siena from Cardinal O'Hara High School. Ranked as the number 24 point guard in New York State by MaxPreps.com, she was All-WNY Player of the Year and All-WNY First Team. Parker was also named Female Athlete of the Year at Cardinal O'Hara, and garnered Monsignor Martin Player of the Year honors as well. So far in 2018, she is averaging 14.0 points, 4.3 assists, and 6.7 steals per game for the Lady Hawks.

"Angel brings more speed and quickness to our back court," quoted Jaques. "She is an explosive point guard with the ability to break down defenders and get in the lane at will. As a member of I90 AAU program and Cardinal O'Hara High School, Siena fans will enjoy watching her continued success in Green and Gold."

Hauer, a forward from Seton Catholic in Binghamton, is a former high school teammate of current Saint and freshman Hanna Strawn. Hauer, the 15th ranked forward in the state of New York according to MaxPreps.com, is entering her senior year at Seton, where she has been an All-State, All-Region, and Sectional All-Star for the Saints. She also earned Josh Palmer MVP honors as a sophomore, and earned a sportsmanship award to her resume last season. Hauer was a staple in the team's state semifinals appearance, where Seton fell to Jamesville-DeWitt in the Class A bracket.

"Julia is a tremendous basketball player," stated Jaques. "She is one of the most competitive players I've ever had the chance to recruit, and that is saying a lot. She understands how to score the basketball and leaves a lasting impression on whoever she plays against. She is another home grown talent coming from Seton Catholic High School and BNY AAU program. I can't wait to coach her."

Jaques added, "These two players fit Siena College beautifully. They are extremely high academic young women who come from championship programs and will be contributing members of our campus community. Our Assistant Coaches did a tremendous job in signing this class."
