The Series With Iona
71st Overall Meeting
 (Siena leads 43-27)
Last Meeting - Siena 59, Iona 47
Jan. 6, 2019 - Loudonville, NY

Of Note

Ali Jaques is 7-10 against the Gaels as a head coach (all with Siena) - but is 5-1 over Iona in the last three years (2016-17, 2017-18, 2018-19)
 Siena and Iona met for the first time in 1979-80, with the Saints taking the first matchup 79-67.

Last Meeting vs. Iona

The Siena Saints took down the Iona Gaels at home in the Alumni Recreation Center on Sunday afternoon by a final score of 59-47. Much of the Saints success on the afternoon came from their ability to get to the free throw line. Siena would reach the free throw line 29 times, making 27 of their attempts for a season-high 93.1 percent from there. The Saints were led by a combined 31 points from juniors Sabrina Piper and Maddie Sims. Piper would go 6-for-10 from the field for a team-high 16 points, along with four rebounds, a block, steal, and an assist. Sims would snag 15 points with a team-high seven rebounds, three steals, two blocks, and an assist. Also putting up double-digit points for the second straight game was redshirt senior Aaliyah Jones, as she scored 11 points, which included seven points from the free throw line. Classmate Joella Gibson also chipped in on the defensive side with a team-high four steals.

HEAD COACH ALI JAKUES

New York University '98
 (Seventh Season at Siena)
 Overall Record: 98-114

In just six short seasons Ali Jaques has put Siena Women's Basketball back on the map. Under her leadership the Saints enter the 2018-19 season with a second straight third place ranking in the MAAC Preseason Coaches' Poll, after putting up the most overall wins in the program in four years.

Prior to their success last season, the Saints recorded 13 conference wins for the most victories since 2003-04 following a MAAC Preseason third place pick.

In 2017-18, Jaques helped collect the program's highest overall win total since 2014-15, when her Saints won 22 games and advanced to the championship game of the Women's Basketball Invitational. Siena won 17 games, and advanced to the MAAC semifinals.

Jaques guided the Saints to a 22-13 overall record during the 2014-15 season which marked the program's first winning season in 11 years and most victories in a dozen seasons. Siena's 13-win improvement from the previous season was tied for the second best turnaround in all of Division I and the Saints' 12 true road wins were tied for the fourth most nationally. Additionally, for the third time in Jaques' first three seasons, the Saints won their MAAC Tournament opener as the lower seeded team.

Siena was rewarded for its success with a trip to the Women's Basketball Invitational and became the first school in MAAC history to win three games in a national postseason tournament and advance to the championship game. The Saints defeated Big East foe Xavier in the quarterfinals in Cincinnati by 20 points, marking the program's largest margin of victory ever over a current member of one of the six major conferences (ACC, Big 12, Big East, Big Ten, Pac-12, SEC).

QUICK HITS

- Aiming to erase a three-game losing skid, Siena Women's basketball plays its third road contest in the last four overall Thursday evening, when it heads to New Rochelle, NY to face Iona.
- The Saints dropped a tough conference bout Sunday afternoon, falling at Manhattan, 52-48. For only the second time this season, the squad did not feature a player in double figure scoring, with Aaliyah Jones, Maddie Sims & Sabrina Piper all leading the way with nine points each.
- Following a win over Monmouth on Saturday, Jan. 19, Head Coach Ali Jaques became the second women's head coach in program history to reach 60 conference victories. Currently in her seventh year at the helm, Jaques holds a 98-114 all-time record, now just two wins away from becoming the third coach in program history to eclipse the 100-win threshold.
- Siena has accumulated a 291-216 (.574) record in MAAC play all-time, including a 61-66 (.480) outcome under head coach Ali Jaques.
- For the second consecutive year, Siena was picked to finish third in the MAAC in the Preseason Coaches' Poll, with Maddie Sims (Second Team) and Aaliyah Jones (Third Team) earning Preseason All-MAAC honors.
- Adding a pair of assists to her total on Sunday, senior Deja Rawls sits in 14th all-time in program history in assists with 295. Rawls needs one more help to tie Ida Krogh (296, 2011-15) for 13th place.
- Maddie Sims is now 10th all-time in program history in blocks with 83. The junior needs four swats to tie Bronwyn Tobin (87, 1996-00) for ninth place.
- Maddie Sims currently leads all players in the MAAC in double-doubles, with five so far this season, including three in conference play.
- Having swept the regular season series over the last two seasons and won the last three and five of the last six matchups overall, Siena holds a 43-27 advantage all-time over Iona. The Saints took down the Gaels in their conference home opener on Jan. 6 by a score of 59-47. Iona has been held under 51 points when facing the Green and Gold in each of the last three contests.
- For the first time since 2016, Siena will be in action on Super Bowl Sunday. The Saints are 9-2 all-time when playing before the big game, dating back to 1997. This includes a 2-0 mark against Manhattan (09, 01), with the team winning in Riverdale on Jan. 28, 2001, 85-74.
- Junior Maddie Sims became the first Siena player to earn a MAAC weekly honor this season when she was named the conference's Player of the Week on Dec. 17. The accolade came after the Mount Laurel, N.J. native recorded her third double-double of the year, which propelled the team to a non-conference win over UMass on Dec. 16.
- Siena connected on 12 threes in a losing effort to Fairfield on Jan. 29, marking the first time since Dec. 6, 2016 that they compiled double-digit triples in a contest and the most overall in a tilt since Mar. 6, 2014.
- The team registered 10 blocks in their victory over Saint Peter's on Jan. 27, marking the first time since at least the 2001-02 campaign they have gone into double-figures in swats. Maddie Sims registered seven blocks individually in the contest, tying a single-game program record.
- Trailing by as many as 10 points late in the first quarter against Monmouth on Jan. 19, Siena completed its fourth comeback win from a double-digit deficit this season. The team's resiliency marked the first time in at least 18 seasons (2001-02) that they have overcome at least four holes of 10 points or more to win a contest.
- Siena was stellar from the free throw line in its 59-47 victory over Iona, going 27-29 for a 93.1 % effort, the most made in a game since Jan. 28, 2017 (30) and the best completion percentage (min. 10 made) since Dec. 12, 2016 (15-16).
- After holding a seven-point lead at the half, the Saints exploded for a 31-point effort in the third quarter of an 84-57 blowout of Saint Peter's in Jersey City on Jan. 4, matching a program record for a period since the NCAA switched from halves to quarters prior to the 2015-16 campaign. The team also posted 31 points in the fourth quarter of a conference win at Canisius on Feb. 8, 2017.
- Siena's 24 assists in the win were the team's most since having 27 helps in a 79-44 win at Niagara on Jan. 26, 2006.
- Additionally, the team's 50 rebounds were its most in a contest since accumulating 63 against Navy on Nov. 27, 2015. In out-rebounding Saint Peter's 50-25, Siena also posted its highest rebounding margin over an opponent (+25) since the Navy contest (+27).
- 33 field goals made in the contest were the most by the Saints in a contest since they made 34 in a win over Rider on Jan. 29, 2007.
- In a 64-59 home victory over Massachusetts on Dec. 16, The game's opening period saw the Saints shoot 58.3 percent (7-12) from the field, marking their most efficient quarter in the last 47 played. Siena shot 64.3 percent (9-14) from the field in the second quarter of a victory over Saint Peter's back on Feb. 25, 2018.
- Sabrina Piper recorded a career performance in the team's win over Colgate on Nov. 29, dropping 30 points while going 10-15 from the field, 4-6 from three-point range and 6-9 from the free throw line, all personal bests. Piper was the first Saint since Kollyns Scarborough last season to have a 30-point game and connect on 10 or more buckets.
- Piper accounted for 54.5 % of the team's scoring in the contest, believed to be the second-high single output percentage in program history, with Scarborough scoring 56 % of the Saints' points on Jan. 13, 2018. Piper and Sims combined for 45 total points, good for 81.8 % of the team's output, a new program mark for a scoring effort by two players in a game by percentage.
- Siena posted several notable team numbers in its 86-81 thriller over Howard on Nov. 19. The team posted its highest point total since defeating Monmouth, 91-86 in double-overtime on Jan. 12, 2017. The team's nine made three-pointers were its most in a contest since draining nine in a win over Canisius on Feb. 18, 2017.
- Down by as many as 17 points in the third quarter, Siena completed its largest comeback since trailing by 20 at Canisius on Jan. 11, 2015, a 71-70 win that came during the year of the "Magnificent Seven", who guided the squad to the WBI Semifinals.
- Junior Maddie Sims (21 pts, 11 reb) & freshman Amari Anthony (12 pts, 10 reb) each posted their first career double-double in the contest, marking the first time since Feb. 2, 2016 that multiple Saints have done so in a game. Additionally, Anthony became the first Siena freshman since Margot Hetzke (five during the 2014-15 season) on Feb. 21, 2015 to record the feat.
- Siena is competing in its 45th season in program history and 36th at the NCAA Division I level in 2018-19.
- The Saints are looking to improve on a 17-14 record from last season, which featured an 11-7 mark in the MAAC and the squad's eighth conference tournament victory in the last nine seasons.
- The team returns four of five starters from 2017-18 after graduating three seniors and seeing three players depart following the end of the season.
- The Saints own a 252-148 (.630) all-time record when playing inside the Alumni Recreation Center, and have posted marks of .500 or better at home in each of the last four seasons. 2017-18's 11-5 home record was the team's best since 2002-03.
- Siena's 2018-19 schedule ties a program record with 15 home contests, 14 of which will be played at the ARC and one serving as the matinee of a doubleheader with the Siena men's basketball team at the Times Union Center. Each home game will be played on a weekend (Thur-Sun).
- Six freshman signed on to the Saints' roster for the 2018-19 season for their largest incoming class since 2010-11.
- Three of the top four scorers from last season return to the hardwood for the Saints, including Maddie Sims (9.5 PPG), who led the team in blocks (36) and ranked second in rebounds (6.3) and assists (5.2) last year.
- Senior Deja Rawls returns to the lineup after steadying the team in assists (9.1) last season.
- Redshirt-seniors Aaliyah Jones and Joella Gibson both sign on for fifth years this season.
- Former Saint Peter's standout Antonia Smith joins the Saints' coaching staff as the Director of Basketball Operations in 2018-19. The Bronx, NY native averaged double-figure scoring in the final two seasons of her time with the Peahens, which spanned from 2011-15.
- 11 of the 14 members of the team have family members that have participated in collegiate or professional athletics. Three players - Maddie Sims (brother, Stonehill College), Deja Rawls (Cousin, Morgan State University) and Margo Peterson (Sister, Stockton University) have relatives who are currently playing college basketball.

Siena Basketball Class of 2023

The Siena Women's Basketball program and head coach Ali Jaques are excited to announce the first two signings of their 2023 incoming class, with the additions of Angel Parker and Julia Hauer to the Green and Gold as the pair signed their National Letters of Intent during the NCAA's Early Signing period. Both will enroll at Siena in the fall.

"Julia and Angel are players we targeted as a staff from the first time we saw them play," said head coach Ali Jaques. "We are excited to bring in two New York players who have had tremendous success in their respective catholic high schools throughout their entire careers."

Parker, a 5'6 point guard from Buffalo, comes to Siena from Cardinal O'Hara High School. Ranked as the number 24 point guard in New York State by MaxPreps.com, she was All-WNY Player of the Year and All-WNY First Team. Parker was also named Female Athlete of the Year at Cardinal O'Hara, and garnered Monsignor Martin Player of the Year honors as well. So far in 2018, she is averaging 14.0 points, 4.3 assists, and 6.7 steals per game for the Lady Hawks.

"Angel brings more speed and quickness to our back court," quoted Jaques. "She is an explosive point guard with the ability to break down defenders and get in the lane at will. As a member of I90 AAU program and Cardinal O'Hara High School, Siena fans will enjoy watching her continued success in Green and Gold."

Hauer, a forward from Seton Catholic in Binghamton, is a former high school teammate of current Saint and freshman Hanna Strawn. Hauer, the 15th ranked forward in the state of New York according to MaxPreps.com, is entering her senior year at Seton, where she has been an All-State, All-Region, and Sectional All-Star for the Saints. She also earned Josh Palmer MVP honors as a sophomore, and earned a sportsmanship award to her resume last season. Hauer was a staple in the team's state semifinals appearance, where Seton fell to Jamesville-DeWitt in the Class A bracket.

"Julia is a tremendous basketball player," stated Jaques. "She is one of the most competitive players I've ever had the chance to recruit, and that is saying a lot. She understands how to score the basketball and leaves a lasting impression on whoever she plays against. She is another home grown talent coming from Seton Catholic High School and BNY AAU program. I can't wait to coach her."

Jaques added, "These two players fit Siena College beautifully. They are extremely high academic young women who come from championship programs and will be contributing members of our campus community. Our Assistant Coaches did a tremendous job in signing this class."
